Melbourne University Interstate Day for Year 11 and 12 students

Onsite at the University of Melbourne, July 9

Providing the NSW and Victorian Health Guidelines permit, this onsite event will be held on campus at the University of Melbourne for Year 11 and Year 12 students from interstate.

This event is for interstate students in Year 11 or 12 to get to know the University of Melbourne. The day will cover application processes, scholarships, student services, accommodation options and financial assistance.

This is an opportunity to meet with current students who've also moved to Melbourne from around Australia to learn about their experience and find out how they managed the transition. Included in the day is lunch, as well as a personal tour of the Parkville campus and a residential college.

Students are encouraged to register early as places are limited and registration will be closed when capacity has been reached.

University of Newcastle - Joint Medical Program Info Session: Webinar Series

13 July

Join Academics and Student Ambassadors to learn about the Joint Medical Program (JMP). Discover what you will study throughout the degree, learn about integrated learning opportunities and career outcomes.

The Bachelor of Medical Science and Doctor of Medicine (MD - JMP) is an innovative five-year degree that will prepare you for an exciting and rewarding medical career. Delivered in partnership with the University of New England, Hunter New England Local Health District and Central Coast Local Health District, students graduate ready to play a key role in shaping and improving future health care for individuals and communities.

The University of Newcastle Central Coast Clinical School is partnered with the Central Coast Local Health District and the Central Coast Research Institute and are both co-located on the site of the redeveloping Gosford Hospital. Central Coast final year medical students are participating in the exciting new Assistants in Medicine Program as part of the NSW health response to the COVID-19 pandemic and are very proud of the opportunity to help the community.

University of Tasmania Schools Recommendation Program Now Open

Year 12 students can submit their free application to the 2022 Schools Recommendation Program at the University of Tasmania. Rather than an ATAR, students are assessed based on their school's recommendation and their Year 11 results. The program is open for most of the University's undergraduate degrees, and early offers will be issued from July. Get your application in by 18 June to be eligible for a first-round offer!

University of Newcastle - Joint Medical Program - How to Apply – 3 Steps

If you have already registered for UCAT and want to apply for the University of Newcastle Joint Medical Program in 2022, you must complete the following three steps.

1. Complete the UCAT and HSC
2. Receive an ATAR of at least 94.30
3. Attend a multi-station interview panel

Remember, the University of Newcastle Joint Medical Program is world-class and entry is competitive. Each year, 170 places are available in the program across both the University of Newcastle and the University of New England; more than 3,500 people apply for those spaces. Your application will go through a rigorous selection process. If your application isn't successful, you are encouraged to apply again the following year or to consider one of the many alternative degrees offered by the University of Newcastle or the University of New England.
